A Friendly Conversation About the Future of SEND Provision

We're pleased to invite you to our termly SEND Parent Coffee Morning, where we'll be welcoming the Bracknell Forest, School Place Planning Team — for an informal and friendly discussion.

This is your chance to chat, share your views, and help shape the future of SEND provision in our area.

What's It All About?

Historically, SEND provision in [Local Authority Name] has been structured around:

- Specialist Resource Provisions (SRPs) attached to mainstream schools
- Special schools

The Authority would like to hear your thoughts on what future provision should look like.

Please consider the following questions during the discussion (you can add more if you like):

Discussion Questions (please consider):

- 1) Does the existing model of SRPs and special schools meet local needs, or would a greater focus on inclusion in mainstream schools be preferable?
- 2) If you could go back with the benefit of hindsight and experience, what kind of provision would you request today for your child?
- 3) If you could wave a magic wand what SEND provision would you chose within Bracknell Forest for your child?

What to Expect

- A warm welcome and refreshments
- A short introduction from the Bracknell Forest team
- Small-group discussions guided by the questions above
- Time afterwards to continue conversations and enjoy the coffee morning as usual

The discussion with the Local Authority will form part of the coffee morning and won't take up the whole session unless parents wish to continue the conversation.

Your Voice Matters

This is a space for positive, constructive conversation — a chance to share experiences, ideas and reflections that will help shape future SEND provision. While not intended as a forum for individual complaints or for 'moaning', we value hearing about challenges as part of constructive suggestions for improvement. Our aim is collaboration and co-production.

We look forward to seeing you!
